Prime Minister dedicates new Parliament building to Nation

- Narendra Modi installs historic 'Sengol' near Lok Sabha Speaker's Chair
- 19 Opposition parties including Congress stay away from inauguration

Prime Minister Narendra Modi carrying the historic 'Sengol' inside the new Parliament building in New Delhi this morning accompanied by Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla and 21 Adheenams (religious leaders). The PM installs the 'Sengol' and lights the traditional lamp to mark the inauguration of the new building.

New Delhi, May 28 (Agencies)- Amidst the boycott of 19 Opposition parties including Congress for completely sidelining President of India Droupadi Murmu for the inauguration of new Parliament building, Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurated the swanky new building, built on an area of 64,500 square metres of area at a cost of Rs. 970 crore, near the Old Parliament building here this morning.

As the inauguration coincided with the 140th birth anniversary of Vinayak Damodar Savarkar, a revered Hindutva icon by BJP and right-wing outfits, it provided enough gristle for further heating up the controversy, with the Opposition parties issuing a joint statement saying that "there was no value in a new building when the 'soul of democracy has been sucked out from the Parliament."

The new four-storey building houses both the chambers of India's federal bi-cameral Legislature — Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha. It comes up close to a 100 years after the construction of old Parliament House which began in 1921 and concluded six years later, in 1927 and is estimated to have cost around Rs. 83 lakh. The new Parliament building is designed by Ahmedabad-based HCP Design, Planning and Management, a consultant for Central Public Works Department (CPWD) for the larger Central Vista redevelopment project, and constructed by Tata Projects Ltd. The new Parliament building is a part of the reconstruction of Central Vista, the Central Administrative Area at Raisina Hill.

Will take country towards new path: Modi

New Delhi, May 28 (Agencies)- Prime Minister Narendra Modi has said, "the new Parliament building will serve as an inspiration and awakening, to take the country that holds the pride of being a biggest democracy in the world, towards the new direction." The PM addressed a gathering of Parliamentarians at the newly inaugurated Parliament building, here this afternoon.

Deputy Chairman of Rajya Sabha Harivansh read out a message from President Droupadi Murmu and Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar. Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, former Prime Minister and Rajya Sabha member H.D. Deve Gowda from Karnataka, former President of India Ram Nath Kovind, BJP National President J.P. Nadda, Union Ministers including Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna from Karnataka, were prominent among those present.

PM Modi said: "This is the time and right time, that comes for every country to set the foot in the new direction. Mahatma Gandhi with his call for Swaraj, brought all the Indians together and fought for independence, as a result of which we got freedom in the year 1947."

In another 25 years, India will celebrate its centenary year of freedom and 25 years of Amrit Kaal. We have to resolve with new commitment, by expanding our wisdom to support the confidence of other countries. India is a country that fights many challenges and will continue to inspire other countries of the world. In the coming days, the country's success will be an inspiration for other countries in fighting poverty. With this, the responsibility of India grows further, added PM Modi.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

After using a Parliament building that is nearly a century old and symbolised a colonial era, we finally have a new structure in independent India. It reflects the vision and aspirations of a country that has evolved significantly since 1947. Some people may be misled by the idea that this is a new Parliament set up. But the new building will be another extension of the existing Parliament complex to signify the spirit of change and continuity; the journey of our Parliament from what it was yesterday to what it would be in the future. The old building gave direction to independent India, while the new one will witness the making of India as 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat.'

The inauguration of a new Parliament building presents an opportunity for us to seriously introspect on our Parliamentary conduct to make Parliament more efficient and productive. The trend of increasing disruptions and longer periods of deadlock is antithetical to the demand for politics to respond to the complex governance challenges of our time. One hopes that adequate functional space and modern facilities for the members will contribute to reducing friction and enabling serious discussions. In the coming years, as this complex expands, each member will have their own dedicated space for interacting with people from their Constituencies.

A modern legislature is required to work in tune with the challenges of time. The country has already paid huge costs — social and economic —due to the absence of laws when needed the most. The world is changing fast and is on the verge of a tectonic shift due to the emergence of machine learning and artificial intelligence. The new Parliament building should remind us to prepare and equip ourselves to face up the new challenges. As a fountainhead of the people's hopes and aspirations, particularly those of the younger generations, it would work as a lighthouse to guide us in our ambitious journey to build 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat.' — Harivansh, Deputy Chairman of the Rajya Sabha, in The Hindu

Book returned to library after 100 years

California: A book has been returned to a US library almost 100 years late.

A History of the United States, by the American historian Benson Lossing, is thought to have been published in 1881. It was on loan from St Helena Public Library in California, with a return date of 21 February 1927.

However, it was handed back only a few days ago - making it 96 years overdue. The man who returned the book to the front desk shared no details of himself before leaving.

He owed no money to the library as it has not used fines since 2019, according to library director Chris Kreiden.

Had the fine stood, the man would have had to pay $1,756 (£1,413) following the library's old nickel-a-day penalty (4p).

Inside, the library's original note remains intact pertinently, saying: "This book may be kept for two weeks" and "injuries to books, and to books lost, must be paid for".

Library staff now hope to trace down the man to learn how he came across the book.

Man holds plank position for over 9 hours

Pilsen: A Czech athlete put his endurance to the test when he held the punishing abdominal plank position for 9 hours, 38 minutes and 47 seconds.

Josef Šálek broke the Guinness World Record set in 2022 by Australian Daniel Scali, who held his plank for 9 hours, 30 minutes and 1 second.

Joska, a therapist, teacher and personal development coach, took on the challenge at the AVATAR festival at the Park Hotel in Pilsen.

The athlete said the world record came only five years after he decided to change his life for the better.

Recalling unforgettable scenes from novels like Oliver Twist and short stories like Kabuliwallah, she expressed her opinion that both were capable of creating lasting impact in the minds of the reader.

This was followed by a question-and-answer session. The first copies were received by Ramakrishna Rao and Bharathi Ghanashyam. Deepa Venkatesh proposed a vote of thanks.

REALLY...?

- The word "octopus" comes from the Greek, októpus, meaning "eight foot."
- The oldest known octopus fossil belongs to an animal that lived some 296 million years ago, during the Carboniferous period. That specimen belongs to a species named Pohlsepia and is on display at the Field Museum in Chicago.
- Octopuses have three hearts. Two of the hearts work exclusively to move blood beyond the animal's gills, while the third keeps circulation flowing for the organs. The organ heart actually stops beating when the octopus swims, explaining the species' penchant for crawling rather than swimming, which exhausts them.

LAUGHTER THE BEST MEDICINE

Two little boys were known troublemakers, stealing everything they could get their hands, even from the church. One day a priest stopped one of the boys and asked, "Where is God?" The boy shrugged and the priest repeated, "Where is God?" The boy ran out crying to his home where he hid in a closet. His brother asked him, "What's wrong?" The boy replied, "We're in trouble now! God is missing and they think we took him!"

Green plus signages mistaken for traffic signal

Sir,

The medical stores and doctor clinics used to display plus signage in red colour which later was asked to be discontinued as Red Cross organisation brought legal restrictions for usage of their symbol by others.

At that time, doctors started using ancient Egyptian symbol called Caduceus, a symbol with a short staff entwined by two serpents, sometimes surmounted by wings replacing the red cross.

Now the medical stores have started putting up big plus or cross mark coloured green with LED lamps which are similar to the green light of traffic signal.

The medical shops which are nearer to the signal lights emitting the green light confuses the motorists mimicking the green light of traffic signal.

Hence, I request the authorities concerned to look into this and remove these green plus signages.

Indira Canteens all set to start afresh

With Congress-led State Govt. deciding to infuse a new lease of life, canteens are expected to bounce back with changes in menu, other new additions

Mysuru, May 28 (MK&BS)- Indira Canteens in city that were waiting for patrons are all set to get a new lease of life.

Following directions from the State Government, the works are on to refurbish canteens that were providing food at affordable rate, catering to the hunger pangs of the poor and needy. The basic infrastructural facilities are under check, besides planning to bring changes in the menu and modification of CCTV cameras among several others in the making.

Mysuru, the City of Palaces that is also the home town of Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, has 11 Indira Canteens. Though the contractors running the canteens are waiting for the clearance of pending bills, they were somehow running the facility.

With the new Congress Government in place, giving a green signal to infuse a new lease of life to these canteens, the staff and customers are eagerly looking at the changes in the offing.

Of the total 11 Indira Canteens in the city, the canteens at Kumbarakoppal and Alanahalli are equipped with Centralised Kitchen to supply food to remaining canteens. The kitchen at Alanahalli supplies food to six canteens and Kumbarakoppal kitchen supplies to remaining five canteens.

Barring the canteen in the premises of K.R. Hospital, Alanahalli, Kumbarakoppal (opposite Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research) and near KSRTC Sub-Urban Bus Stand, which have much takers, the other canteens see less footfalls.

At several canteens, the latches of toilet doors are broken raising safety concerns, followed by other complaints on lack of drinking water supply, hygienic atmosphere, faded painting of the building and broken windows that need repair. Most importantly, the pending bills should be cleared along with future bills, that have to be cleared at the Government level.

A Manager of Indira Canteen told Star of Mysore, "When the canteens started, there was a rush of customers with many thronging the place for breakfast, lunch and dinner. The canteen at K.R. Hospital alone was seeing a business of Rs. 13,000 to Rs. 14,000 per day. As the days progressed, rumours spread about the canteen shutting door and since then the number of customers dwindled. Now, 400 to 500 people visit the canteen daily."

The breakfast is priced at Rs. five and lunch and dinner with rice, curry and curd rice at Rs. 10.

If the canteen was run in the same pace without any hurdles, there would have been more demand. As the Government itself announced to stop the facility, the people stopped coming. Moreover, those who were eating to their appetite at a lesser price were also deprived, the Manager of an Indira Canteen rued.

In another two weeks, the restoration works will start with some of the Officers from Bengaluru already inspecting the facilities, following State Government's decision to restore them. The business is expected to be back in the reckoning like earlier days, said the Manager in a confident tone.

Health Officer of Mysuru City Corporation Dr. D.G. Nagaraj said: "Unlike other parts of the State, where several Indira Canteens were closed, we have been running the canteens in Mysuru city. The contractor is running the canteens, despite waiting for clearance of bills for the last one year. Preliminary arrangements are being made to open Indira Canteen built at Udayagiri, but waiting for inauguration. We are also focussing on clearing the pending bills of contractors."

'Inspection report sent to Govt.'

A report has been sent to the Government after inspecting the 11 Indira Canteens in city. Measures will be taken to provide all the basic infrastructural facilities shortly. The contractors have been told to provide quality food and maintain cleanliness in the surroundings.

Regularise services of Pourakarmikas in State: Former Mayor urges CM

Mysuru, May 28 (PM&BS)- Karnataka Rajya Nagarapalike, Nagarasabhe, Purasabhegala Pourakarmikara Mahasangha has appealed to Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to regularise the services of Pourakarmikas getting direct payment facility, drivers, loaders, cleaners and UGD workers and all those involved in cleaning works.

Former Mayor Narayan, also the President of Karnataka Rajya Nagarapalike, Nagara Sabhe, Purasabhegala Pourakarmikara Mahasangha, made the above demand at Pathrakartara Bhavana in city on May 26.

"The services of all those workers involved in cleaning works should be regularised at a time and a memorandum has also been submitted to the Chief Minister in this regard. The CM has also responded positively," said Narayan.

Following the State-wide protest by staying away from the works on July 4, 2022, the then Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had assured to regularise the services of direct payment Pourakarmikas and bring others — drivers, loaders, cleaners and UGD workers — working on outsource basis under direct payment facility. The Government Order had also been issued to regularise the services of 11,333 Pourakarmikas in the first phase and 12,872 in the second phase. But the process was not conducted in adequate manner, alleged Narayan.

R. Shivu, Vice-President of Karnataka Rajya Nagarapalike, Nagarasabhe, Purasabhegala Pourakarmikara Mahasangha, Treasurer Yathiraju and President of Federation of Slum Dwellers Association R. Das were present.

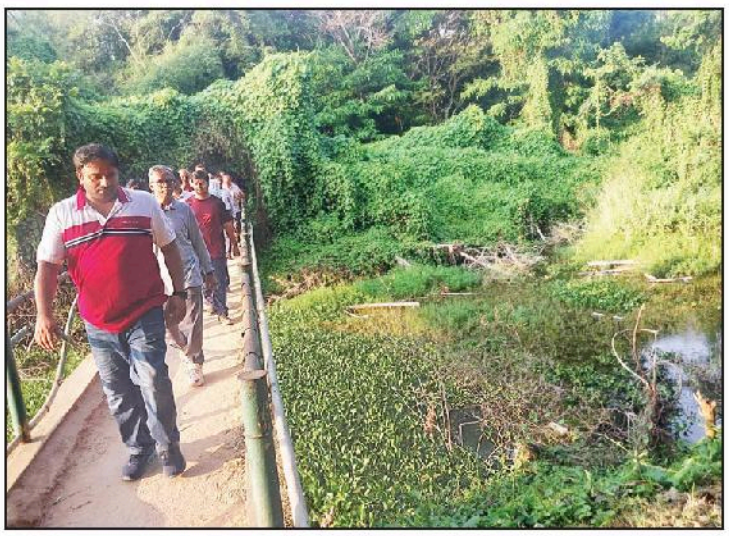
Mysuru, May 28 (BS)- Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra has said: "It is intended to tap Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) funds of University of Mysore (UoM), to prepare a Master Plan for the development of the lake and another plan for management and improvement of Micro Plants."

Dr. Rajendra visited Kukkarahalli Lake in the heart of the city yesterday morning and sought opinions from general public to take up development works at the water body.

The DC was of the opinion that "It is essential to develop Kukkarahalli Lake including the jogging track, besides disposing of waste and garbage. De-silting works will be taken up at those areas from where stinking smell is emanating, followed by cleaning of the lake and repair of boats."

The DC also informed that, priority will be given for cleanliness and painting of railings on the either side of walking track.



Likewise, all the measures will be taken in the interest of walkers and strollers.

One among the public also opined that "the area of Kukkarahalli Lake is vast, turning into a best jogging spot for the people. But more reforms are needed in maintenance of the lake. The visitors should be allowed into the lake with entry fee from 9 am to 5 pm, without clashing with the timings of morning walkers or evening strollers at the lake."

Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, UoM Vice-Chancellor Prof. N.K. Lokanath and Registrar V.R. Shylaja were present during the inspection visit of the DC.

Alleged negligence by Forest Dept., CESC

Wild tusker electrocuted in coffee estate

Madikeri, May 28- A wild tusker, which had strayed into a private coffee estate in search of food and water, was electrocuted after it touched a sagging 11 KV power line, passing through the coffee estate at Kutta village, Srimangala hobli in Ponnampet taluk yesterday early morning. The tusker was said to be aged between 40 and 45 years.

The coffee estate belongs to one Pravardhan Poojari and is located next to the Kali Temple in Kutta. There is a 11 KV power line passing at a very less height through the estate. The wild tusker, which strayed into the estate, touched the live power line with its truck while trying to break a branch and was electrocuted immediately. Meanwhile, villagers alleged that negligence on the part of CESC had led to the incident. They said that there is a distance of about 300 mts from one electric pole to another, causing the power line to sag very low which resulted in the wild elephant being electrocuted.

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) B.M. Sharanabasappa visited the spot. Dubare Elephant Camp Veterinarian Dr. B.T. Chittiappa conducted the post-mortem.

DCF Sharanabasappa said that following information from Ponnampet Range Forest Officer (RFO) Shankar, a spot inspection was conducted and added that the post-mortem showed that the wild elephant had died of electrocution as it had touched the 11 KV power line with its trunk. "Despite bringing it to the notice of CESC to set right the sagging power lines many times, no action has been taken," the DCF added.

Dr. Chittiappa too said that the negligence on the part of CESC had led to the death of the wild tusker.

CESC Junior Engineer S. Nagendra Prasad said that the incident has been brought to the notice of senior officers. "The works to set right the sagging power lines is being undertaken with the help from the Forest Department from one side and meanwhile this incident took place. A team will be sent to this spot immediately and the works will be taken up," he added.

Kutta Circle Inspector Ravishankar, Deputy RFO Ganesh, Nagaraj Shet, Rakshit, Antony Prakash and Rapid Response Team (RRT) members were present.

The preparations for the inauguration of new Parliament building began at 7.30 am, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, both in traditional attires, taking part in a puja organised as part of the inauguration ceremony.

Priests Sita Rama Sharma, Sri Rama Sharma and Lakshmeesh Tantri from Sringeri Mutt and Naragaja Adiga and Rishyasringa Bhatt from Sringeri Mutt, Delhi performed 'Vaastu homam' and 'Vaastu puja' prior to the inauguration.

'Sengol' installed

Following the rituals, PM Modi received the historic 'Sengol' (Sceptre) from a battery of 21 Adheenams (religious leaders) who blessed the country's premier for the auspicious moment.

It was the same 'Sengol' that was accepted by first Prime Minister of India Jawaharlal Nehru at his residence on the night of August 14, 1947 in the presence of several leaders.

Modi, led by Adheenams, carried the historic 'Sengol' into the Lok Sabha chamber and installed it near Lok Sabha Speaker's chair in new Parliament building amid chanting of Vedic hymns by Adheenams. Later Modi lit the lamp, a Hindu tradition followed till date to mark any auspicious start.

Plaques unveiled

A row of three plaques were unveiled to mark the inauguration of the new Parliament building, that also marks the new beginning in Indian democracy, with the old Parliament building being turned into a museum.

During the historic inauguration of the new Parliament building, prayers from all religions (Jain, Judaism, Hindu, Islam, Sikh) were recited. The programme was attended by Cabinet Ministers.

The interior of the new Parliament building has three National symbols — the lotus, the peacock and the banyan tree — as its themes. Earlier, as a token of gesture, PM Modi felicitated construction workers with shawl and memento.

Foundation stone laid on Dec. 10, 2020

As the previous and old building was turning inconvenient due to lack of space, a resolution had been passed in both the upper and lower houses of Parliament to construct the new building. Subsequently, the foundation stone for the new Parliament building was laid by PM Modi on Dec. 10, 2020 and the works began on Jan. 15, 2021. It has been built in record time with quality construction, as per the Lok Sabha Secretariat.

The law-makers of the country that boasts of world's largest democracy will be getting a new seat with the inauguration of the new Parliament building in a triangular shape. The old Parliament building — Sansad Bhavan — was built in a circular-shape.

The shape and the design might be the most visible form of difference between the two buildings, but it is not the only thing that sets the two structures apart.

The new Parliament building has been designed keeping in mind the future requirements, with a seating capacity for 888 members in the Lok Sabha and 384 members in Rajya Sabha while the current and old Parliament building can accommodate 550 members in Lok Sabha and 250 members in Rajya Sabha.

As a precautionary measure, security was tightened near Ghazipur border area as Khap Panchayat leaders and farmers had announced to join protesting wrestlers' march to the new Parliament House.

All the entry and exit gates of Central Secretariat, Udyog Bhawan Metro Stations were closed for passengers, during the opening ceremony of the new Parliament building.

'Sengol' gets due space in temple of democracy: Modi

New Delhi, May 28 (Agencies)- On the eve of the inauguration of new Parliament building yesterday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi received a 5-ft-long ceremonial sceptre from the 21 Adheenams (religious leaders) from Tamil Nadu, with Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman being a witness to it.

The sceptre, known as the 'Sengol,' is made of gold and silver, but has been the subject of controversy, with the Congress party questioning the Government's claim that it (sceptre) was used to symbolise the transfer of power during India's Independence. But BJP leaders were quick to dismiss the allegation. PM Modi stated that "The 'Sengol' is getting its deserved place in the temple of democracy, after being left as a 'walking stick' at a museum."

'Will take country towards new path'

"Being a biggest democracy of the world, we will give a new direction and light for others. While we have this pompous building, we shall make it glow further with our valuable thinkings. Every law made here will be the foundation for glorious future of the country. Be it the welfare of poor, chalking out new opportunities for youth and women, the discussions and deliberations shall be the posit for new future of India, by upholding the spirit of truth," said Modi in his call to the law-makers.

"This is not just a complex, it represents the aspirations of 140 crore Indians. It shows the world our determination. It is the temple of democracy," the Prime Minister emphasised.

Significance of 'Sengol'

Referring to 'Sengol' installed in Parliament earlier today, Modi mentioned that in the erstwhile Chola dynasty, the 'Sengol' symbolised justice, righteousness, and good governance.

"It is our good fortune that we have been able to restore the pride of the holy 'Sengol'. Whenever proceedings start in this House, the 'Sengol' will inspire us," PM Modi said.

He said that when India moves forward, the world moves forward and hence, the new Parliament will also lead to the development of the world through the development of India. "Along with India, the new Parliament building will also contribute to the world's progress," he emphasised.

Special stamp, Rs. 75 coin released

Modi also released a special postage stamp and Rs. 75 coin by the Union Ministry of Finance in commemoration of new Parliament building.

According to a gazette notification by the Department of Economic Affairs under the Union Ministry of Finance, the weight of the coin is 34.65 to 35.35 grams. One side of the coin bears the image of the Lion Capital of the Ashoka Pillar in the centre, flanked by the word "Bharat" in Devanagari script and "INDIA" in English. The rupee symbol "₹" and denominational value "75" in international numerals is also inscribed below the Lion Capital. The other side of the coin bears the image of the Parliament Complex and the year "2023" in international numerals below the image.

By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

Rising rainwaters and receding common sense!

Last week we saw the terribly disturbing tragedy of a young lady techie, losing her life, when she got trapped in her cab, that became submerged in rainwater, at the K.R. Circle underpass in Bengaluru. This is not the first time that such a thing has happened, either in the city or elsewhere.

We regularly read reports of people getting trapped on water-logged roads, or even getting washed away into storm-water drains, from many other cities too, with perhaps the worst being low-lying Mumbai, which is now bursting-at-the-seams too. The monsoon horror stories from there, sound almost unbelievable. But we all know that they are all very true.

Just a few years ago, an advocate friend of mine, while commuting in his car, from his office in downtown Mumbai to his house in Borivali, was trapped for a full three days, mid-water. My family and I were appalled to know of his ordeal and almost near-death experience. But instead of being deterred from living there, he narrates the story of his misadventure with a grin and like the millions of his fellow Mumbaikars, he still prefers to live there and nowhere else!

Bengaluru too has become almost just as notorious for such occurrences and their incidence has been growing at a pace greater than the growth of the city itself. As things stand now, it is a well-known and documented fact that just one centimetre of rain is enough to bring life to a halt on its roads, in many parts of the city. Even the most premium areas of the city, like the famed Commercial Street, become a nightmare during the slightest rain, with shoppers huddled at shop-fronts for shelter, while their owners are seen desperately bailing out the rainwater gushing into their cellars!

Some areas of Bengaluru are so notorious in this respect, that people who dwell there or who have to pass through them, as they go about their daily lives, live in constant fear of either the rainwater flooding their houses or of getting trapped in the water-logged roads of those areas. Although the loss of life is thankfully only occasional, the unimaginable distress and the heavy losses ensuing from this recurrent occurrence, are shamefully frequent. And, the reasons for this are not hard to find.

With the way the city has been allowed to grow, both legally and illegally, over the past few decades, every one of the natural waterways, once called Raja Kaluves, that ran between the elevated areas of the city, have been badly encroached upon or even completed obliterated. And, all the natural water-bodies, interspersed across the city too, that were the natural destinations of these channels, have met the same fate and now they all but cease to exist.

But, while they existed, these were the natural conduits and destinations respectively, for the rainwater and it would flow away quietly and quite harmlessly and stay there, constantly replenishing the surface groundwater for miles around, for the rest of the year, until the next monsoon. It was a beautifully balanced natural arrangement that did much good while doing no harm, even occasionally, to the people. That is why, every one of the thousands of open wells across the length and breadth of the old city, had its perennial stock of clean drinking and washing water.

Now, with no pathway to take and nowhere to go, the rainwater is simply forced to stay put on the streets or overflow them and enter low lying houses or the basements of even the tallest apartment blocks. Having done this self-inflicted bit of irreversible harm, the question that we are now forced to ask ourselves is how best we can put an end to this misery on our roads?

To begin with, to a great extent, our road engineers have to re-plan the way they want our rainwater to flow away from our roads and keep all its conduits clear, all through the year. This process has to start well before the sometimes-untimely summer rains too. And, they have to unfailingly learn from each passing years' experience, year after year. This has to be a continuous and ongoing process if it has to do us any good. And, every one of the solutions that they come up with, should be practicable and result-oriented.

I am saying this because there are innumerable examples of both our netas and babus, burning their hands and our funds too in the process, while dabbling with outlandish and sometimes even ludicrous curative measures. One such glaring example is the most recent one that they would install, at the entrances to our underpasses, retractable boom-barricades of the kind we see at the entrances of some hotels and apartment blocks. Police personnel manning these junctions are supposed to operate these marvels of technology whenever rains are anticipated.

Now, has anyone given a thought to how these electrically operated barriers are going to work when there are the almost ever-present, power outages during the rains, as a result of trees falling and bringing down electric power lines with them? And, in the melee of pedestrians and vehicles trying frantically to beat the rains and rainwater, where will you find the Police personnel, being free enough to rush to the scene and activate these barriers?

So, these are all suggestions which just will not work in practice, although they may momentarily help to assuage the outraged sentiments of citizens, whenever there is the unfortunate, disturbing accident. The solutions lie in keeping the water outlets at all underpasses and low-lying roads free of all obstructions like silt and garbage and checking constantly to see that they stay that way.

And, citizens too should be sensible enough to see that in their hurry to get home in the rain, they do not resort to foolhardy adventurism like getting their vehicles to wade across flooded areas. It was exactly these two mistakes that were responsible for the tragic death in our most recent case. If the rainwater outflow from the underpass had been ensured, with proper and periodic maintenance by the authorities and if the cab driver had not attempted to take the perfectly legal but highly risky short cut across the junction, the tragedy could have been averted.

The sad part is that in this particular spot the underpass was not the only way for him to take. Come rain or shine, that junction has always had a very safe alternative route, just alongside. But for such alternative routes to work, we need to take the common sense route too!

She was addressing students at the oath taking ceremony of first year B.Sc (Nursing) students of Government Nursing College (of MMC&RI) at Platinum Jubilee Hall in J.K. Grounds here recently.

Observing that Nursing students should not feel that their responsibility ends with completion of their studies, Dr. Dakshayini opined that the real challenge in their life comes only when they enter the profession. Stressing on the need for having commitment and determination to the profession, she said that the smiling face of Nurses and their professional touch and care helps patients in faster recovery.

Act swiftly during rain damages, DC Dr. Rajendra tells Officers

Dr. K.V. Rajendra

Mysuru, May 28 (MTY&BS)- Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra has said: "Adequate measures have been taken to swiftly act in the case of damages caused due to heavy rainfall in the district."

Speaking to media persons in the city on Friday, Dr. Rajendra said: "There was 30 percent deficiency in rainfall in the month of April in the district, but a good spell of rainfall has been received in the month of May, with wind speed recorded at 30 km to 40 km, causing damages in some parts of the district. Over 250 hectares of horticultural crops including Banana have been damaged along with vegetables. A joint survey involving Horticulture and Revenue Departments will be conducted to assess the extent of losses suffered by farmers. The relief will be given as per National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) norms." The Government has already opened 'Parihara Portal' to upload information related to crop damages, where the extent of damage will be mentioned, he added.

A total of 234 houses have been partly damaged due to rain accompanied by wind in the district in the last one week. A team of Panchayat Development Officer (PDO), Village Accountant (VA) and one Engineer has been constituted to collect information related to damages to houses in rural areas. Action has been taken to provide relief towards damages to houses, within 48 hours of the incident, said the DC.

A meeting of District Disaster Management Committee has been conducted with the directions issued to clean the drainages. The precautionary measures have been taken with the focus on rain-affected areas in the year 2019-20, to prevent the recurrence of the incident. The focus is more on low-lying areas and the directions have been given to open Gruel Centres for the safety of those affected in case of flood water entering the houses.

A meeting has also been held with CESC officials and directions have been issued to repair damaged electric poles, cables and transformers. Besides, it has been told to take all the safety measures while constructing new buildings. The notice board should be installed at the construction site to prevent any mishap, added the DC.

The rain claimed three lives in the district last week, with two among them struck by lightning and one woman lost her life as the roof came crashing down. Eight livestock have also died in the rain and the directions have been issued to pay compensation to the owners.

During the previous year, a report on 1,200 houses damaged in the district had been sent to the Government. However, some among them had intentionally pulled down the houses and some others had included their name for the want of relief under pressure. Hence a report containing the genuine cases of house damages was prepared and sent to the Government, clarified DC Dr. Rajendra.

Roads must be readied for safe travelling

Mysuru, May 28 (BS) -Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra has said: 'Roads should be conducive for safe travelling which helps in preventing the accidents." Dr. Rajendra spoke while presiding over the meeting of Road Safety Committee at his office in the city on Friday.

"With more rain expected in the next one week, the roads should be fit for travelling during the downpour. The signal lights should be in condition and the road users should compulsorily follow the traffic rules," said the DC.

Every life is valuable and hence all measures should be taken to prevent accidents. The speed breakers should be installed on demand and high-mast lamps should be installed at the places including People's Park. The road humps should also be properly maintained, the DC told Officers.

The black-spots where the rate of accidents are high should be identified and precautionary measures should be taken to rectify them. The district saw 47 fatal accidents in the month of March and 50 people have died including 11 in the city limits, in 37 accidents reported in the month of April. Hence the precautionary measures should be compulsorily followed. Police must create awareness to ensure that the two-wheelers wear helmet and the four-wheeler drivers strap seat belts, directed Dr. Rajendra.

DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Jahnavi, PWD Executive Engineer (EE) Raju and Officials of other Departments were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Heiligenschein

Pronunciation: hahy-li-guhn-shahyn.
Meaning: A bright ring, caused by diffraction of light rays, that appears around the shadow cast by a person's head on wet grass.
Origin: Heiligenschein (plural Heiligenscheine) is from German, in which it means "halo" or, literally, "saint's shine." Heiligen- is a form of Heiliger, "saint," which is related to English hallow and Halloween. Schein means the same thing as its English relative shine. Heiligenschein was first recorded in English in the early 1910s.
Example: The skydivers saw Heiligenscheine around their shadows as they landed in the dewy field.

THE ODD WORD

Halecretm

Light half-suit of plate armour.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Half a loaf is better than no bread

Meaning: Something, even if it isn't what you ideally would prefer, is better than nothing.
Origin: This proverbial saying is first found in the same place as many other proverbial sayings - John Heywood's 1546 glossary A Dialogue conteinyng the nomber in effect of all the Prouerbes in the Englishe tongue:
Throwe no gyft agayne at the giuers head,
For better is halfe a lofe then no bread.
Many proverbs are a form of condensed popular wisdom and 'half a loaf is better than no bread' seems like plain common sense - few would argue with it. Nevertheless, in psychology experiments to determine whether fairness was an innate concept in humans or whether it was learned, pairs of UK and US children have been set the following test:
One child is offered four sweets (or candy if you prefer) and the other is offered one. The child with the opportunity to take four sweets is given this choice: A. Either, you get four sweets and the other child gets one. B. Or, you both get nothing. Surprisingly to many, children routinely choose option B and reject the sweets, preferring to maintain a sense of fairness.

You shall find out how salt is the taste of another man's bread, and how hard is the way up and down another man's stairs. —Dante Alighieri

DO YOU WANT STAR OF MYSORE

STAR OF MYSORE, English evening daily published by the city's Academy Newspapers (P) Ltd., has been gaining increasing popularity over the years. As Mysuru city is growing rapidly, there is an overwhelming demand for STAR OF MYSORE. But there are complaints that the paper is not reaching the readers in time in areas of city outskirts and also not available. At the same time it's a matter of delight, that a good number of our readers in the outskirts of our city, beyond the ring road, are getting their copy of STAR OF MYSORE next day along with their morning dailies.

Therefore, those wishing to have STAR OF MYSORE the next morning along with their regular morning newspaper (Kannada or English) may ask the paper boy who delivers the morning paper to deliver STAR OF MYSORE also.

The readers can also contact our Circulation Manager T.S. Gopinath - 9845296447 or Circulation Assistant K.S. Prasad - 9900382840 for getting their copy under this arrangement.
